

The Birmingham Big Green Lunch Event

Saturday 7th June 2014, 10.30am–5.00pm

*Birmingham Botanical Gardens
Westbourne Road, Edgbaston
Birmingham
B15 3TR*

For a second year, Birmingham is hosting a Big Green Lunch Event at the enchanting Birmingham Botanical Gardens. We are able to offer a reduced entrance fee for the day of £1 per adult (free entrance for under 16's). Come and visit the beautiful gardens and glass houses whilst enjoying an entertaining, creative, educational, sustainable as well as tasty fun day out!

For more information contact: 0121 464 9166 or email: sustainabilityteam@birmingham.gov.uk

The Big Lunch is an initiative started by the Eden Project that encourages people across the UK to come together for a few hours of food, friendship and fun. It aims to foster stronger, friendlier and greener minded communities where people start to share things, from conversation and ideas to skills and resources. We've added a green twist to our event to make it an educational and ethical event promoting sustainable lifestyles and behaviour change in a fun way as a greener Birmingham is a better city to live, work and eat in!

Attractions include:

- Bio-diesel powered stage show with headliners the amazing 'Electric Swing Circus' and featuring many more fabulous, foot-tapping local bands
- The Birmingham Fair Trade and Ethical Market selling a range of locally sourced and fairly traded produce
- Freshly cooked hot food for sale – or bring your own picnic
- Bollywood dancing performance & workshop
- Magic Show
- Belly Dance performance
- Circus skills workshops
- Giant games on the lawn
- Junk art and model making
- Hands-on environmental art interventions
- Live demonstrations from Kitchen cookery school
- Sustainable and green exhibitors
- Smoothie Bike
- Fairtrade tea & coffee for sale

Go to: www.makingbirminghamgreen.com/news

